WE DELETE YOUR PAST FROM THE INTERNET

Protect your internet reputation

Digitallex protects safety and reputation on the internet.

The Internet is the virtual space where news, information and contents are spread without limits and become reachable for anyone through search engines, but the inappropriate use of some information can affect the stability and credibility of a company or a person.

Digitallex protects privacy and the right to be forgotten by deleting, deindexing and modifying on the internet all the unwanted content from the past in order to defend the actual and future reputation of a company or a person.

Delete the unwanted pages

It is possible to delete your first and last name from the Internet and search engines. We are dedicated to deleting your past completely by removing the unwanted pages, where there are grounds for applying the right to be forgotten.

Web Reputation

We protect the opinion that is built on the Internet, regarding a person or a company, by deleting all the unwanted traces. It can be related to the brand that belongs to a company, to a freelancer or a famous person.

Social networks, forums and comments

Do you want to delete your first and last name from any existing social network? Has anyone created a profile that speaks badly of you or your brand? Do you need to delete all the traces urgently? We can delete this information.

Official state bulletins

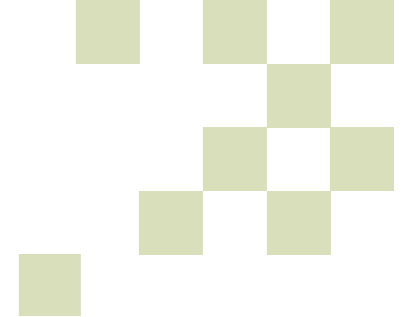

We guarantee that your name and the name of your company published in any official state bulletin are encrypted / encoded or deleted to prevent access.

Guaranteed results

Digitallex guarantees results with "satisfied or refunded" policy. Ask for a first free consultation.

Diritto all'oblio

In order to carry out our activity in the best possible way we have recourse to the right to be forgotten (Judgment of the European Court of Justice from the 13th May 2014 – EU Regulation 2016/679 known as GDPR) thanks to which it is possible to delete articles, photos and videos that can harm your reputation.

We act on search engines, web sites, social networks, newspapers, blogs and forums, Official Bulletins and other administrative publications.

How the service works

8

Client's request

We respond to the client's request and search the Internet for negative information for free.

Content classification

We share negative content found by our experts with the client and analyze how to protect his reputation.

Service offer

We provide the client with a detailed contract in which we indicate the obligations of the company towards him. The contract contains the information to be deleted, the estimated time, the price and the guarantee of success.

Case management

Once the contract has been stipulated, our IT experts, thanks to their technical tools, will be able to analyze the content of the unwanted links and will proceed with their elimination or modification.

Deleted information

The end result will be the total elimination of all the negative and harmful content on the internet, and a new positive reputation for the client.
